

F. Structural Requirements:

2. Site Specific Geotechnical Study And Structural Calculations Required Before Building Permit Issuance: Prior to the issuance of a building permit, the city must receive a site specific geotechnical study conducted by an engineer licensed by the state of Utah, along with blueprints, which blueprints must be prepared by a registered structural engineer. The blueprints must take into consideration concerns stated in the geotechnical study.