

3. Dangerous and Objectionable Elements

b. Vibration

No vibration (other than from transportation facilities or temporary construction work) shall be permitted which is discernible without instruments at the property line of the industrial use.